There Is You

There! There is you in the many, in the powerful in the absent, in the few in the question in the answer in the clue in the step in the run in the pride before the Fall in the lips in the promise in the writing on the wall where I see but am blind words uttered and unkind That's where I find You.

By the water, at its edge underneath hides the broken pledge in a hurry in a bind just about to lose my mind when I'm tired when I'm bored feelin' virgin smellin' whore when got ground up, turned to fodder fell asleep and didn't bother Didn't notice didn't worry didn't run didn't hurry...

Turned it all 'round in my head then forgot all that you said looking for you in the valley 'long the mountain in the alley don't know where all this is goin', heaven help me what it's showing no more honor no more tasks no more sorrow no more mask I'll remember all I forgot, let go of all I'm not

Now uncovered, now discovered Cast in doubt, now
Cast, now out,
Now, out,
Now
Out.
